

Tracy Werner, Healthier Pets Naturally, Food Formulator and Homemade Nutritional Consultant

After dealing with numerous health issues in her dogs such as allergies, arthritis, and cancer as a result of commercial dog food, chemical-laden treats, toxic cleaning supplies, pharmaceuticals with too many side-effects, and grooming products loaded with unhealthy preservatives, Tracy's research-orientated mind kicked in. She quickly realized that what you put into and on your pet's, body has a direct correlation to their health and longevity. After searching out only the finest species appropriate products with only the highest quality ingredients for her crew she started sharing her new finds with other concerned pet owners.

Tracy owned Natural Pet Market - a Health Food Store for Cats and Dogs in Wheaton, IL from 2002 - 2017. Her dedication to the quality of life of our companion animals is evident in not only the healthy choices and knowledgeable and friendly sales staff at the store but also in her passion for animal rescue work.

Through the years at Natural Pet Market she has gained extensive experience and has done in depth research on a plethora of canine health topics and how they relate to nutrition. Additionally, she has personally cared for well over 20 plus dogs in her recent years of fostering - each and every one with their own unique nutritional needs and challenges.

Recently, Tracy was appointed as Shelter Nutritional Advisor for Young at Heart Senior Cat and Dog Rescue and has studied nutrition and diet formulation under Jean Dodds, DVM.

Dogs are not only Tracy's career but also her passion. She has completed numerous canine behavior courses, attended continuing education seminars about health and nutrition, and competed successfully in canine sports. She has now joined forces with Dr Elizabeth Cutright of Healthier Pets Naturally to help empower owners in helping give their pets the right balance of nutrients through proper diet formulation, utilizing both veterinary clinical research and a well-developed diet formulator that gives her access to 100's of nutrient combinations.

Tracy and HPN Want Your Pet To Live a Long and Healthy Life

We can customize a nutrition plan for a dog with cancer AND food allergies; a senior with high liver values; and a very finicky dog with gallbladder sludge to name a few. ...even a 1 year old pup who is scratching himself raw but is already on a novel protein raw diet?

Tracy hears these types of issues (and many many more!) each and every day. She is known for her sound and effective nutritional advice that truly helps the pets heal and thrive. Combining her skill set with Dr Cutright's Nutrition Response testing makes a powerful combination. And even if you have a happy healthy pet, Tracy can tell you the best way to keep them that way based on their INDIVIDUAL needs and help you add variety to your home made diet receipts safely reducing chances of food allergies, nutritional deprivation, or other issues linked to the feeding of improperly balanced homemade diets. There are no boilerplate answers at Tracy listens to you, asks the right questions, and formulates a custom diet just for YOUR pet.
